Secure furniture for challenging and dementia environments.

low secure

People with various types of challenging behaviour such as mental health, learning disabilities and dementia, require a safe and secure environment which recognises the varying needs of the person as a whole. Renray has numerous furniture ranges and offers interior designs tailored to the atmospheric and emotional needs of different user groups. Renray uses a variety of fabric colours and visual textures to soften the feeling of the room, soft furnishings such as curtains, cushions and comfortable chairs are also key in this.

specification

making a difference

Standard specification

Don't be deceived by the name. It may be called Renray's 'Standard Specification' range, but it still represents some of the finest quality health care furniture on the market. Furniture where excellence is the standard.

In keeping with our reputation as the UK's leading supplier to the health care sector, Renray uses only the very best materials and calls upon some of the industry's most advanced production facilities to create products that are fit for purpose, stylish and designed to perform their function for many years into the future.

Optional CE specification upgrade

The Renray product range is broad enough to cover every conceivable aspect of health care - from stylish sofa collections to modern and traditional occasional furniture ranges, from dining chairs to beds and mattresses. There are times, however, when you need your health care furniture to go just that little bit further, perform just that little bit harder.

That's where your Optional Specification Upgrade range comes into its own.

Put simply, many of our products have been designed to incorporate those extra little touches that could make all the difference. So, you'll find that many of our bedroom furniture ranges, for instance, can be upgraded with features such as non-removable drawers, security screws and anti-ligature grooved shelves and handles. Or perhaps you require foam chairs with a concealed zip and flap rather than the standard Velcro fastening. Whatever your requirement, count on Renray to give you the solution you're looking for.

Challenging environment specification as standard

This is a range of furniture from Renray that has been designed with the very particular needs of mental health and secure units in mind.

The result of extensive research, and collaboration with health care providers to ascertain their patients' most specific requirements, these products have been thoughtfully designed, carefully constructed and rigorously tested to ensure they withstand the rigors of even the most demanding conditions.

Reassuringly safe, secure and robust, they can also form part of a therapeutic environment for patients.

Working with the care sector on a daily basis, Renray is always up to date with the ever changing needs of dementia care - that's why we are always open to designing and producing bespoke products to cater for special requirements.

All products in the Renray Dementia collection have soft rounded corners for safe movement by residents; perspex panels to help with visual impairment and features such as open viewing sections in wardrobes to hang next-day clothes.

About Dementia

It is reported that within a few years one million people in the UK will have some form of dementia. Already two thirds of residents in care homes and a quarter of patients in hospital beds have dementia. (Data source: Alzheimer's Society).

There are many different causes of dementia. Dementia affects people in different ways and at different times and whilst some people will have cognitive impairments, others develop visual impairments.

The combination of impairments can result in individuals feeling anxious, confused and uncertain. As a better understanding of dementia, based on clinical research, has become available so the philosophy of “person centred care” has become the accepted approach aimed at offering as much independence and stimulation as possible, within safe boundaries, for each individual.

The effects of dementia on the individual mean that there is a need to adapt their environment to offer the best possible facilities to assist them in their daily living. This impact on the care setting therefore affects the features and designs of furnishings within the dementia environment.

At Renray Healthcare, using our many years of experience producing furniture for the NHS and care homes, we have designed and manufactured a range of furniture to help those with impairments created by dementia. We have undertaken research, with leading clinical and academic experts, to be sure our range meets the varying needs, including stimulation and functionality, of those with dementia.

Renray products are innovative, durable, safe and well built.

Features and benefits of our range to help those with impairments

From our research and discussions with dementia care clinicians, providers and academics, we have ensured that important relevant features are always included in the Renray furniture for those with impairments. All our dementia friendly furniture includes benefits which relate to health and safety and help with nursing needs, many of which are already build into Renray products as standard.

Our range is produced in “Pippy Oak”, so this full range looks consistent and it adopts the right colour ways, grain patterns and robust handles which are important features for those with dementia.

Our specialised furniture range

The important features and benefits of the range include:

- Vinyl wrapped with curved, smooth edges and corners for safety
- Easy wipe clean surfaces for infection control
- Plain and simple wood grain, so it doesn't cause confusion or concern (which can happen to some dementia sufferers)
- Contrasting, clearly visible easy to use handles
- Viewing panels, so items within can be seen, helping with cognitive and visual impairments
- Strong and durable
- Stable and comfortable seating allows for prolonged periods of sitting
- Subtle patterns to fabrics

With a growing number of specialised dementia care facilities being opened throughout the UK, Renray has developed a completely new range for people with dementia. A culmination of great design, technical excellence and quality production, this refreshingly different collection incorporates a number of unique features designed to make life a little easier with these functionally obvious products.

Over the last 10 years Squirrel Medical has been developing air mattresses with improved features to better meet the changing demands of the care home sector. In particular Squirrel has developed a range of ultra-low profile mattresses that provide exceptional pressure area care and comfort. In addition the designs offer a reduced mattress depth and a firmer lying surface that help reduce falls from bed.

The low profile of the mattress ensures the 22cm clearance needed from the top of the mattress surface to the top of the side rails is easily achieved without the need for side rail height extensions. All mattress systems come with one of our “Whisper Quiet” range of pumps with quick fit hose connectors and a zip-off top cover for improved infection control.

Diamond mattress replacement system

The Diamond is the ultimate pressure relief mattress replacement system, suitable for high to very high risk users. The Patent Protected Diamond range incorporates our Ventilated “Stacked-cell” technology delivering exceptional care and comfort. It is effective both in the prevention and treatment of pressure ulcers, with minimal movement. Ultra two way stretch top cover with a tough water-proof, non-slip base. Designed to be easy to use and maintain.

For more information and clinical references visit our website www.squirrelmedical.com

Dormir mattress replacement system

The Dormir is a dynamic hybrid mattress replacement system, which combines alternating air technology with the subtle use of foam, suitable for medium to high risk users.

The Dormir provides high levels of care and comfort with a low profile 13cm mattress. Reducing the mattress depth to 13cm takes away the need for extra height sides whilst increasing the level of stability for a resident getting out of bed or transferring from a wheelchair.

With a two way stretch top cover and innovative cell technology, the Dormir mattress delivers a high level of comfort.

Apollo overlay mattress

A high quality, cost effective “Over-lay” mattress system for medium risk users, that can be used in conjunction with either a standard foam mattress or the Renray Elite “Under-Lay” mattress to help maintain the required 22cm side rail height above the mattress surface.

With more and more cafe bars and bistro areas being featured within hospital reception and waiting areas, Renray offers a comprehensive choice of bistro style furniture to help you create a relaxing place for family and relatives to socialise. With our expertise, we can help you to design and plan your bistro scheme - and make it a success.

A good seating position and correct chair dimension encourage a proper sitting posture, helping you to cope more readily with the physical challenges of daily living and enhancing normal body functions - such as respiration. They also provide better pressure area care, maximising the surface over which your weight is distributed - on the one hand, reducing pressure, on the other facilitating independent movement and postural changes.

the Renray guide to good seating and posture

Seat too wide

Offers no support or stability, the body tends to lean to one side, putting pressure on ischial tuberosities.

Seat too low

An individual's body weight is supported on a small area, leading to high pressures under the coccyx and buttocks. Feet pushed forward for stability increases heel pressure.

Seat too short

The body weight is supported on a small area. The feet are used for balance and posture, leading to high pressures and discomfort, especially under the thigh.

Seat too high

Difficult to get into and no support for the feet, leading to ankle deformities and restriction of blood flow at the back on the thigh. Heels are at risk when the patient shuffles forward for comfort.

Seat too narrow

Risk of pressure damage to Trochanters. Difficult to get in and out of the chair due to limited movement.

Seat too long

Causes high pressures, especially on the back of the knees and sacrum due to limited knee and ankle flexion, leading to poor posture.

At Renray we are famous for our technical and clinical expertise which ensures that our products not only look good, but are specially designed for comfort, durability and long term performance.

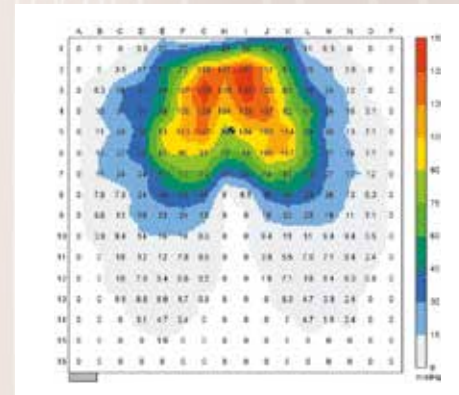

pressure care

Are you sitting comfortably?

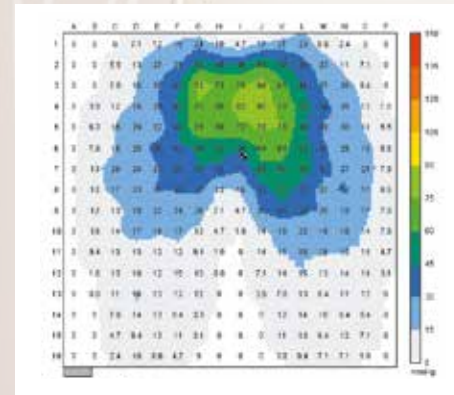

To ensure good posture, pressure area care, as well as comfort, it is important to have a correctly fitted chair and cushion.

Humans vary significantly in size and build. In some situations, it is sufficient to design for the smallest or largest likely dimension. In other situations, adjustable benches, chairs or devices are required for the full range of people. Renray is an expert in designing products in accordance with the latest scientific evidence. So, we don't just create comfort, we build it in from day one and have the clinical and technical expertise to back it up.

This sets us apart from the rest.

Mood boards

It all starts with the mood boards. Our interior designers work with you to create the look you're after and put together the scheme you require. With literally thousands of combinations of colours, fabrics and styles, your scheme will be unique to you. Our skilled designers and estimators then go on site to take precise measurements and planning begins. We'll talk you through your design package making sure it meets your expectations and that there are no surprises at the end, keeping you informed every step of the way. We then set to work, always in sync with your agreed deadlines, with any unforeseen issues being reported and resolved collaboratively. The process is complete when our own national team of fitters carefully install everything to your complete satisfaction. It is this complete 'start to finish' solution that really sets Renray apart.

Renray has something to suit everyone. From a contemporary eyelet curtain to a traditional pinch pleat style, we can enhance your look with a wide selection of fashionable flame retardant fabrics and styles. All of our curtains are weighted, and feature mitred corners and blind hems as standard.

Quality comes as standard

- 100% fullness.
- Mitred corners.
- 220g (standard weight) other options are available.
- Blackout/sateen/polyester lining.
- Blind hems.

Quotation process

For new builds and cubicle arrangements quotations can be made using floor plans and elevations/window schedules. For existing buildings quotations, we can arrange for a no obligation site survey to be carried out by one of our Area Sales Managers or National Estimators.

Fitting

We operate a full fitting service carried out nationwide by our own teams of uniformed, professional fitters.

Curtain Tracks

As standard we use a white aluminium curtain track with siliconised gliders (gliders run on the underside of the track to minimise ingress of dust and dirt). Other options:

- Electric track - switch or infra red remote control operated.

Anti-ligature tracks

Available with pop out gliders or snap hooks if required. Safe release tracks and gliders allow a controlled release of the curtains from the track.

Cubicle tracks

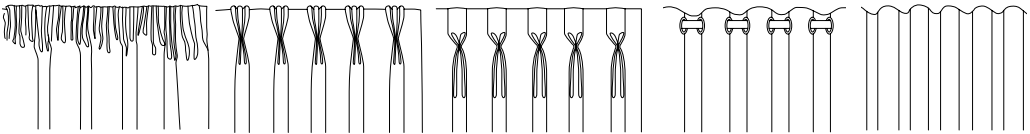

We use a white aluminium ceiling suspended system as standard, which uses roller glides with integral stainless steel hooks. Available with anti-ligature brackets if required.

Curtain poles

Wooden curtain poles in 28mm, 35mm and 45mm diameters.

Metal curtain poles in 19mm, 28mm, 35mm and 50mm diameters.
